

NEXT WEEK

Brandon Malo, Senior Pastor

MIRROR, MIRROR ON THE WALL

Continuous Prayer

Perhaps the most difficult challenge the Bible puts to us is Paul's encouragement, "Pray without ceasing." How is that even possible?! If all we did was pray, how would we have time for anything else in life? Well, let's find out...

THIS WEEK

Steve Tulloch, Community Care Pastor

MIRROR, MIRROR ON THE WALL

Like the Queen in Snow White, our concern with what others say about us can be all-consuming. This month, we'll explore some ways to help us learn about and become who God has created us to be, regardless of what others say, and even regardless of what we may want to hear.

'Monkey See, Monkey Do' (Imitation and Mentorship)

Although a life of faith is deeply personal, it should never be purely 'individual'. We need the mentorship, support and accountability of others. Who better to help us see ourselves for who we really are than the people who care about us most? Of course, we have to choose to truly let someone in, so let's take a look at what that might look like.

Matthew 4:18-22 and I Corinthians 4:15-17
